

October 11, 2011

NIPR will be relocating their Kansas City office in February 2012. In preparation for the full office move and to avoid inclement weather, the data center will relocate over the weekend of October 28th – October 30th, 2011.

The data center will go off-line at 7:00 PM CST on October 28th. This will result in a total outage, which means that all NIPR applications, ftp, email and telephones will be completely unavailable. The objective is to restore all services by 8:00 AM CST on Sunday, October 30th, but the data center will be back on-line no later than 6:00 AM CST on Monday, October 31st.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact NIPR Customer Service at customerservice@nipr.com. We appreciate your patience during the move.
